BLOGGER REVIEWS!

Bennetts for babies

We have been really lucky to have to the Bennetts for babies range of products.

I had never heard of Bennetts before but I found out that Bennet a pharmacist and father his own pharmacy. He then had his sons who took the product exclusively in a pharmacy to Africa. Bennetts truly is a far range is the best selling baby

The products as they are original formulations.

We received Baby Bum Cream, Baby Aqueous Cream and the Bum Buddy Travel pack. There is also a Nipple Cream.

Baby Aqueous Cream

Mum of a Premature Baby

as they are the best-selling baby care range in South Africa and they were established over 50 years ago!

The Bennetts range has been formulated by a pharmacist, helping to care for your baby. I do worry about what chemicals I put on my children's skin so this puts my mind at ease. Due to this, none of the products have an overpowering smell.

We were sent the Travel Buddy (£4.99), fragrance-free Baby Aqueous Cream (£3.99), Baby Bum Cream (£3.99) and Aqueous Bath Drops (£3.99) to try out.

Bennetts baby skincare products

I hadn't heard of the Bennetts for babies range before, but after a little research I've found out that they were established over 50 years ago and they're the best selling baby care product in South Africa.

I was recently asked if we'd like to try out some items from the range and as I love finding new and unique products for us to use as a family, I jumped at the chance.

The Bennetts packaging is very simple and straight forward. It looks clean and a little clinical, it doesn't look dissimilar to something you'd find in a hospital. Each product is formulated by a British qualified pharmacist and gently helps protect young, delicate skin.
